Jeju Island

- the “Hawai‘i of South Korea”
- 4.3 victims
- unnamed memorial stone - unacknowledged trauma
- unmarried/childless women and children under 15 - no public mourning ceremony allowed. only private sphere of women domain
- adopt so the deceased can be re-membered
- Crystal Baik Reencounters: On the Korean War and Diasporic Memory Critique

Island autonomy

- Taiwan, Chinese
- Ryukyu, Okinawa, Japan
- Indigenous cultures and language suppression
- Political colonizing
- Identity issues that intersect here in Hawai'i, too

Blackness

- Blackness in the Pacific
 - anti-Black sentiments here in Hawai'i
- Black feminist scholars, artists - we draw heavily on their intellectual genealogy
 - Atlantic islands

What must we do to build liberatory futures?

What does a future based on mana wahine look like?

How do we enact Indigenous and Island feminisms every day?
